Hello, welcome to my portfolio

HANXIAO ZHANG

I have been passionate about visual expression since childhood. I hold a bachelor's degree in Exhibition Design, with a focus on spatial design, which strengthened my foundation in environmental composition and visual storytelling. During my studies, I discovered a strong interest in character and environment design, leading me to transition into game art after graduation. Along the way, I also explored film art, recognizing its deep connection with game CG in world-building and narrative visuals.

Proficient in illustration and 3D production, I am committed to creating immersive visual experiences across games and film.
