HanJiang

My name is HanJiang, and I'm from Chengdu. For me, games are a way to enter another world. I'm fascinated by the feeling of immersing myself in a game, driving the story forward, and changing the environment through my own actions. When I solve a puzzle in a meticulously designed level or am moved by a character's fate, I always wonder how the "magic" behind it all works—how the rules, interactions, and emotions are woven together.
Therefore, I aspire to study game design, transforming this passion into creative ability, so that in the future I can personally build worlds that provide players with the same profound experience.

There are four projects in my portfolio:

1. WEN DAO: A board-game prototype
2. Whale Pinball：An interactive game prototype
3. The alchemist's chamber：A 3D Environment modeling project
4. Sketch: My drawing practice
