WEN DAO

This new card game is inspired by the popular board game "Three Kingdoms", and retains its core gameplay of players forming card groups to compete. In addition, it also introduces new mechanisms - mobility and map settings, adding unique changes to the game. The players of the game are divided into 4 different identities. After drawing cards, they move on the map to compete through combination and matching.

Background

Reference

"Three Kingdoms" is a card game set in the Three Kingdoms period of China. Players can play the role of historical figures from the Three Kingdoms period and use their unique character skills to play various types of cards according to the hidden identities (lord, rebel, loyal minister, traitor) randomly drawn.

My Game

The story of this game is set against the backdrop of ancient Chinese cultivation of immortals. Characters from different sects can draw cards, freely match them, and engage in round-based confrontations on the map until one person emerges the winner.

Game Frame

4 players defeat the other 3 players on the map by [Move] + [Attack], and the last player alive wins.
